

Yorkshire Philosophical Society

Moth Hunting in the Yorkshire Museum Gardens

Wednesday 18th July, sunset (approx 9 pm)

Led by Stuart Ogilvy

Stuart Ogilvy, well known to members for his knowledge of geology, will be sharing another of his enthusiasms with us in July. The museum gardens have a substantial population of moths and other insects and we will be trying to catch some of them and identify them.

We will be setting up three light traps in different locations, and members, knowledgeable or not, will get a chance to see what we find.

All are welcome, young or old. No special knowledge, equipment or clothing is required.

The cost is £5.00 per person which covers administrative expenses and a small donation to the York Museums Trust. The numbers will be limited to thirty.

The Yorkshire Philosophical Society accepts no responsibility for any loss or injury suffered while taking part in one of its visits. Participants are recommended to take out appropriate insurance cover.

Please return with your fee and a stamped self-addressed envelope to:

Graham Williamson, Yorkshire Philosophical Society, The Lodge,
Museum Gardens, York, YO1 7DR

Moth Hunting in Museum Gardens, Wednesday 18th July

I/We would like ___ place(s) at 5.00 each, and enclose a cheque for £___ (payable to the Yorkshire Philosophical Society).

Name(s) -----

Address -----

Tel. ----- email-----

The Yorkshire Philosophical Society accepts no responsibility for any loss or injury suffered while taking part in one of its visits. Participants are recommended to take out appropriate insurance cover.